3.1. Tourism and visitation management in protected areas

- We do not have any document that analyses and makes suggestions for tourism management or we are just starting to implement it in the protected area.
- Lack of information on visitor structure and attitudes - when, why, where, etc.
- We do not know how and whether they affect nature. What to monitor?

Below are the steps to help us manage tourism and visitation in protected areas:
1. Analysis and evaluation of tourism and visitation in the protected area
2. Development of Visitor Management Plan
3. Tourism and visitation management actions
4. Monitoring

3.1.1. Analysis and evaluation of tourism and visitation in protected area

What we can do
- Conduct analysis and evaluation of tourism and visitation in the protected area
- Work closely with scientists to collect data and evaluate protected areas

First step in development of Visitor Management Plan is analysis and evaluation of tourism and visitation aspect of protected area management:
- Collect a range of data on topics connected to existing and possible tourism and visitation, e.g.: protected area purpose, legislative framework, visitor infrastructure, existing restrictions and/or recommendations on activities related to protection and presentation of values, tourism and visitation monitoring, visitor preferences and interests for specific activities, vulnerability of the PA’s natural and cultural resources, education and interpretation programs, identification and cooperation with PA stakeholders, partnerships, etc.

3.1.2. Development of Visitor Management Plan

What we can do
- Develop Visitor Management Plan according to the principles of adaptive management and participatory planning
